IN NUMBER SEVEN.

Mr. John Walker and Miss Bessie Askins, of Number Seven, were united in marriage by Mr. W. B. Stovall last Sunday at the Squire's residence. Mr. Walker is a well-known young gentleman, and the bride is the beautiful and charming daughter of Esquire Jas. W. Askins, of near Terreil. There were scores of friends to offer congratulations.

On the same day, Sunday, Mr. Joe Askins and Miss Jennie Stanley were married, both prominent and popular young people of Number Seven. The groom is a brother of Mr. Walker's bride and Mrs. Askins is also a pretty bride. The Commercial offers congratulations to all.

[BY SPECIAL REQUEST.]

Wednesday night at 6:30 the pretty little country home of Mrs. Jennie Harpole was the scene of one of the prettiest country home weddings of the year, when Mr. Claude Tucker and Miss Mayme Harpole were united and made one. It was a quiet home wedding with only a few neighbors and friends of bride and groom. The decorations were simple in their way and very neat and pretty in appearance. Standing beneath a lovely wreath of holly and mistletoe with initials of the to-be husband and wife, H. and T., Rev. J. H. Thomas spoke the few needed words to link the hearts and happiness of these young people and sealed forever the love and courtship of long standing. The bride was gowned in beautiful silk of purple. After the ceremony and congratulations the young pair bade adieu to friends and left at once for Fulton, the home of the groom's mother, where awaited them a grand reception. Miss Harpole was a lovable young lady and liked by all who knew her, while her husband is a young man of high standing. To them we extend our congratulations and wish their journey through life one of happiness and as sweet always to them as the night they vowed to ever love and cherish each other.

Reynolds-Talley.

Mr. Tom R. Reynolds and Miss Ernestine Talley were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, four miles north of the city, last Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The ceremony was said by Elder Gentry Reynolds in a few impressive sentences. The bride and groom left immediately on the south-bound train for Mobile and New Orleans for a few days' visit.

The bride is the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Talley. She is one of the favorites of the community in which she resides, accomplished and worthy of the esteem of her friends. Mr. Reynolds is an influential citizen of that country and a gentleman of the highest character. He is one of the county's best agriculturists and his home an attractive one.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Reynolds, this city and Mr. Knox Harper and wife, of Rives, were present besides a number of neighbors and friends.
